

INCREASING THE LIMIT OF EXPENDITURES UNDER SENATE
RESOLUTION 366, EIGHTY-FIRST CONGRESS, RELATING TO THE INTERNAL SECURITY OF THE UNITED STATES

JANUARY 25 (legislative day, JANUARY 8), 1951.—Ordered to be printed

Mr. HAYDEN, from the Committee on Rules and Administration, submitted the following

REPORT

[To accompany S. Res. 7]

The Committee on Rules and Administration, to whom was referred the resolution (S. Res. 7) to increase the limit of expenditures under Senate Resolution 366, Eighty-first Congress, relating to the internal security of the United States, having considered the same, report favorably thereon, with amendments, and recommend that it be agreed to by the Senate.

This resolution (S. Res. 7) continues a study by the Committee on the Judiciary, authorized by Senate Resolution 366, Eighty-first Congress, agreed to December 21, 1950, of the administration, operation, and enforcement of the Internal Security Act of 1950, and other laws relating to espionage, sabotage, and the protection of the internal security of the United States.

Senate Resolution 366, Eighty-first Congress, made available to the committee a sum of $10,000 to be expended prior to January 31, 1951. The chairman of the Committee on the Judiciary advises your committee that no funds authorized by Senate Resolution 366, Eighty-first Congress, have as yet been expended.

This resolution (S. Res. 7) as referred to your committee increases the limit of expenditures by $150,000 and extends the time limit for the study to December 31, 1952.

Your committee, in following a general policy limiting the life of a study or investigation of this type to 1 year, amended the resolution (S. Res. 7) by striking out the date "December 31, 1952" and inserting in lieu thereof the date "January 31, 1952." It also decreased the limit of expenditures from $150,000 to $75,000 in proportion with the decrease in the time limit for the study.

A letter from the chairman of the Committee on the Judiciary reviewing steps taken by that committee pursuant to Senate Resolution 366, Eighty-first Congress, and containing a proposed budget for the subcommittee to conduct this investigation follows:

2 INCREASE EXPENDITURES UNDER SENATE RESOLUTION 366

UNITED STATES SENATE,
COMMITTEE ON THE JUDICIARY,
January 20, 1951.

Hon. CARL HAYDEN,
*Chairman, Committee on Rules and Administration,
United States Senate, Washington, D. C.*

DEAR SENATOR HAYDEN: You will recall that in the closing days of the Eighty-first Congress the Committee on Rules and Administration reported favorably to the Senate, with an amendment, and the Senate approved Senate Resolution 366 which authorizes and directs the Committee on the Judiciary to make a study and investigation of certain matters relating to the internal security of the United States.

You will further recall that the resolution was amended by limiting the funds made immediately available to $10,000, to be expended only on vouchers approved prior to January 31, 1951. This was done in order that the Senate in the Eighty-second Congress could again consider the matter since it is contemplated that the investigation will be conducted during the period of time covered by the two sessions of the Eighty-second Congress.

On January 18, 1951, the Committee on the Judiciary unanimously approved Senate Resolution 7 which, as amended by the committee, increases the limit of expenditures under Senate Resolution 366 by $150,000 for a period ending December 31, 1952. This would make a total of $160,000 available for this period.

It was impracticable for the committee to establish a subcommittee under said Senate Resolution 366 until the committee was organized in this session of the Eighty-second Congress. The committee has been organized; a subcommittee has been appointed, consisting of Senators Eastland, O'Connor, Smith of North Carolina, Ferguson, Jenner, Watkins, and myself, and is ready to proceed in the discharge of its duties as soon as Senate Resolution 7 is acted on by the Senate.

There is enclosed a proposed budget of the subcommittee for a period of 23 months beginning February 1, 1951, and ending December 31, 1952.

I shall, of course, be happy to supply you with any additional information you may desire in connection with this resolution.

With kindest regards and best wishes, I am,

Sincerely,

PAT MCCARRAN, Chairman.

Proposed budget subcommittee to investigate administration and enforcement of laws relating to internal security. Senate Committee on the Judiciary, Feb. 1, 1951, through Dec. 31, 1952
